

VICE PRESIDENT MARSHALL IS ADDED TO LIST OF NOTABLES FOR SOLDIERS' CELEBRATION

Will Deliver Address, Chairman J. E. Angle Announces at Committee Meeting; Miske-Greb Bout Planned.

ITALIANS WILL HAVE A MOST ACTIVE PART

Vice President Marshall, Billy Miske of St. Paul, the only boxer Jack Dempsey did not beat, and Harry Greb, the light heavyweight champion of the world are a few more notable names being lined up for the homecoming celebration. Although no date can be set for the celebration it was announced last night at the weekly meeting of the central committee by Chairman J. E. Angle that the vice president had consented to be one of the speakers.

Antonio Bufano, chairman of the sports committee, announced that he had contracted for a fight between Miske and Greb. This is expected to be one of the biggest cards in that line that has ever been exhibited. But that does not seem to be all that this committee, which has been appointed only a week is planning for. It also is considering a wrestling match, and other amusements, including a battle royal, the participants being some of the colored citizens from each town.

The members of the Italian committee do not intend to let anyone else get ahead of them, according to Rev. Henry DeVivo, the chairman. They have made plans to raise money and also to get together. They have secured the names of the most prominent men in each town and have arranged to have an Italian committee in every town, to meet once a week, and to have the chairman of each committee meet with the central Italian committee here and report to them what has been accomplished. They expect to use the Italian newspaper in Greensburg to advertise their part in the celebration and have arranged to have circulars, printed in Italian to be distributed among the Italians all over Western Pennsylvania.

The Italians are planning to give a play if they can get a place to stage it. Father DeVivo suggested the high school auditorium and said that he thought they could raise more money than the committee would need. He said that the committee had also made plans to make a large banner to be raffled off, the money to go to the benefit of this fund.

The question was brought up through Father DeVivo whether the money that was raised should be turned over to the central committee or should be kept themselves to help defray the expenses of their own amusements. Otto Koehler voiced the opinion of all when he said:

"I think that that matter should be left entirely to them; for them to pay into the main treasury whatever amount they are fit and for them to pay for whatever amusements they should plan to have."

M. B. Pryce, general chairman, appointed a committee to represent the Baltimore & Ohio Veterans association, composed of P. J. Harrison, W. W. Haines, J. W. Wardley, John Uday and A. R. King. A committee of the Frick Veterans' association will be appointed later. Mr. Pryce announced that at the basketball game at the high school last Friday night students took up a collection on the service flag and later turned $33.60 over to him.

There will be a general meeting in Uniontown Thursday afternoon and it is expected a large number of men will go up from here to attend that meeting. The next general meeting will be held in the city hall next Tuesday evening.

CAPSTAN GLASS PLANT NEARING COMPLETION; WILL START IN MONTH

South Connellsville Industry Will Give Employment to About 150 Persons.

Operation of the plant of the Capstan Glass company at South Connellsville will begin in about a month, it was learned this morning. There is still some special machinery to be received and installed and then the factory will go on regular runs.

The plant, formerly owned by Ripley & Company, has been completely overhauled and remodeled. The work is in charge of Superintendent W. C. Anderson.

The output of the new plant will be about 65 tons a day. Jelly tumblers will be manufactured. It is expected that the operations will run steadily and approximately 150 persons will be given employment. There are about 50 working at the plant at present, installing the machinery and preparing for the beginning of the tumbler manufacture.

Only one furnace will be used at the plant but its capacity is greater than that formerly turned out by the Ripley factory. The furnace is a new one.

The opening of the plant, making work for 150 persons, will mean some relief to the unemployment situation. Local labor will be used and with the beginning of operations only about a month away the company will soon begin to sign up employees.

BRICK PRICES CUT

Joseph Soloson Company Announces Reduction of About 10 Per Cent.

The Joseph Soloson Fire Brick company today announced a cut in the price of fire brick which, it is estimated, will amount to an average of 10 per cent. Common sizes of refractories which until recently have been selling at $40 and $50 a thousand will be reduced to $36 and $45, and while the cuts vary somewhat on the different varieties it is estimated the cut will average about 10 per cent.

Other fire brick manufacturers all over the country are making similar cuts including the Harbison-Walker Refractories company. The building brick makers are also taking action to reduce prices, but so far not much has been done along this line.

MOVIE BILL KILLED

House Fails to Decide End to Sunday Motion Picture Plans.

HARRISBURG, April 2.—The House failed to pass a bill to permit paid Sunday movies in the House, when its sponsor tried to have the measure placed on the calendar despite the negative recommendation of the Judiciary special committee.

The motion was defeated by a vote of 20 yeas to 133 nays, thus demonstrating that the Pennsylvania Legislature is opposed to any movement which attempts to break down Sunday observance.

DEFENSE SCORES POINT IN TRIAL OF WIDMER CASE

Defendant Not Reckless, Eye-witness of C. W. Crim's Death Testifies.

SPEED WAS NOT EXCESSIVE

Trade End of Prominent Local Citizen Due to Circumstances, Drive of Automobile Losing Control of Machine in Effort to Avoid Mishap.

The defense scored a point at the very outset of the taking of testimony in Uniontown this morning in the case of the commonwealth against Karl Widmer, who is charged with involuntary manslaughter as the result of the death of C. W. Crim of Connellsville who was struck by the defendant's automobile at Apple and Arch streets, in front of the post office, last November 25.

John Satterfield, the first commonwealth witness, testified that in his opinion Widmer was not running at excessive speed nor in a careless manner. He was a witness of the accident, he said. According to the witness, Mr. Crim stepped into Arch street on his way across, saw the machine coming and started back. At this juncture, the witness said, Widmer, turning from Apple street, lost control of the car and ran onto the sidewalk, striking Crim and causing injury from which he died.

Mr. Satterfield was the companion of Mr. Crim at the time and was the main witness. He, too, was in the path of the machine but escaped without injury.

The commonwealth rested before noon.

On the stand this afternoon Mrs. Karl Widmer, wife of the driver of the car, said her husband had been going slowly and that he had no attempt to avoid hitting Mr. Crim. He would not have steered the car onto the sidewalk. The witness said on cross examination she did not know of any trouble with the machine. She had not been in it since, she testified.

It was expected the case would be concluded during the afternoon.

The case was begun late yesterday. The defendant is alleged to have been driving his car at a high rate of speed and in a reckless manner at the corner of Apple and Arch streets and to have run up onto the sidewalk, hitting Mr. Crim and breaking his leg and otherwise injuring him so that he died at the Cottage State hospital in Connellsville a few hours later.

The incident occurred last Thanksgiving evening. Mr. N. Reamer, non-in-law of the deceased, is the prosecutor.

Little time was consumed in picking a jury and the following 12 men will sit on the case: E. D. Smith, clerk, German township; John Hair, blacksmith, Washington township; C. L. Hahn, motorman, North Union township; Samuel Sherry, laborer, Dunbar township; Harry P. Blase, miner, Springfield township; R. D. Klingensmith, clerk, Connellsville; Fred Veck, laborer, Dunbar township; Edwin Budd, Jr., foreman, Dunbar township; W. M. McCormick, foreman, Connellsville; Robert H. Watson, engineer, South Union township; Fred Bier, operator, Uniontown, and Dawson Black, farmer, Springfield township.

TO AWARD PRIZES

Christian Sunday School Students Will Be Rewarded for Attendance.

About 60 persons will be given prizes for Sunday school attendance at the Christian church this evening. For the past nine months the school has used a system of attendance and punctuality records under which a red mark was placed on the record of each child who had been present at least two points, and a person coming late had their record marked with a cross, counting one point. Those absent missed both points.

Under this plan it was possible to secure a maximum of 78 points. First prizes are given to those who made from 75 to 78 points, inclusive, and second prizes to those who made from 72 to 74 points, inclusive. A suitable program for the prize giving has been arranged and the public is invited. The program starts at 8 o'clock.

COLDEST APRIL IN EIGHT YEARS IS EXPERIENCED

Mercury Drops to 20 Degrees Overnight; Uniontown Reports 15 Degrees.

ICZ FREEZES ON RIVER

Thin Layer Extends Out for Distance of About 30 Feet; Water Pipe in Scottdale Home Freezes on Monday Night; April 1 Much Warmer in Past.

The cold weather, which gripped the city last night was the most severe for April in eight years, according to the figures secured today from the weather readings preserved at the West Penn offices here. The mercury dropped to 20 degrees which is away below the freezing point and actually as low as the average temperature for the entire winter.

Ice from the river last night, a thin sheet of it extending out from the west bank for about 30 feet. Much ice also floated down the stream during the morning.

In Uniontown the low mark was reported as 15 degrees and it is also claimed that peaches in that district are damaged.

On Monday night, when the temperature here was 22 degrees water pipes in the home of W. J. Dooney at Scottdale froze.

The weather record for 1918 shows the maximum temperature on April 1 was 53 degrees. The minimum, recorded for other years follows: 1917, 50; 1916, 44; 1915, 28; 1914, 48; 1913, 12; 1912, 54.

The weather forecast today predicts warmer weather and the sun which broke through about noon promised to fill this prediction.

HARRISBURG, April 2.—Officials at the state zoologist's office said no reports indicating serious cold weather have been received. OFFICERS NIP A SECOND PLOT OF PITTSBURG REDS

By Associated Press.

PITTSBURG, April 2.—What federal authorities believe was an attempt by Russian Bolshevik agitators to seize the government Arsenal at Fortch and Butler streets was frustrated this afternoon when police summoned to the scene by a riot call dispersed a group of foreigners who had gathered about the gates. According to the police an attempt had been made to force an entrance into the building.

Following closely on the heels of the arrest yesterday of William Wyck, alleged anarchist, and Lemme and Trotsky agent in this district charged with being leader of a plot to seize the arsenal and start a revolution in Pittsburgh the riot call caused considerable excitement, early reports being that a pitched battle had been fought between police and the anarchists.

When the police arrived at the hall in answer to the call, however, the anarchists fled in waiting automobiles.

Telephone Injunction Continued.

HARRISBURG, April 2.—The Pittsburgh county court today handed down an opinion in the commonwealth proceedings against the new rates of the Bell Telephone company continuing the preliminary injunction until a further hearing.

CORN PRICES SOAR

As Much as Six Cents a Bushel Recorded on Chicago Exchange.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 2.—Corn made an extraordinary jump in price today, amounting in some cases to six cents a bushel. Official announcement that wheat scarcely was so acute that wheat and flour exports from the United States had been stopped was chiefly responsible.

Victory for the liquor interests in the Chicago municipal election was also an important factor. The steep advance was for corn in September delivery, a rise to $1.38 1/2 against $1.32 1/2 at the finish on Monday.

Deer Is Very Tame.

A deer roams itself at home at John Bryner's near Ohslye on Monday. It came down a creek about noon and approached Mrs. Bryner in the yard. Children playing about did not frighten the animal. It scurried some leaves from under a tree and remained during the night. It seemed to be thoroughly tamed and it is thought that dogs chased the deer.

SCOTSDALE PLANT IS DAMAGED

$30,000 TO $40,000 BY FIRE; 150 MEN ARE RENDERED IDLE

SCOTSDALE, April 2.—Fire of undetermined origin early this morning damaged the plant of the Marion Machine Foundry & Supply company to the extent of $30,000 to $40,000, destroying the boiler department and part of the manufacturing department and throwing about 150 men out of employment.

Good work by the firemen, under the direction of Chief Walter Haines, prevented destruction of the entire plant, which is located just to the east of the West Penn railroad from Everson to Scottdale, handicapped by low temperature which caused the water to freeze on the hose lines and on themselves, the members of the hose company succeeded in checking what was a big blaze when it was discovered by the foreman of a crane gang.

The fire started over an office in the boiler department and before it was under control destroyed that part of the plant and had eaten far into the manufacturing department. Much valuable machinery was damaged and therein lies a large part of the loss, which is said to be partly covered by insurance.

The flames were discovered about 1 o'clock and the firemen worked incessantly until 5. Much praise was heaped on them by C. W. Sharon, the superintendent. It was said the officials were unable to account for the origin of the fire.

Work of rebuilding will be started at once, it was intimated. The plant has been running steadily and is said to have had large orders on its books.

SCOUTS OF TROOP 1 OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY WITH FINE BANQUET

Feast is Prepared and Served by the Boys; Scottdale Secretary and Others Speak.

Boy Scout Troop No. 1 last night celebrated its third anniversary at a banquet given in the diningroom of the United Brethren church. About 38 scouts and their guests were present.

The dinner was a fine example of what scouts can do when they are put to the task. The idea of having a banquet originated only a few days ago. The troop got together, appointed various committees and sent out invitations.

Yesterday the boys gathered at the church and prepared the dinner. Everything was made by the scouts with the exception of baking the beef loaf. Charles Berkey, patrol leader, demonstrated his skill in baking cakes the product of his efforts being much appreciated. The scouts also served the dinner, and did it almost professionally.

Addresses were made by C. D. Magle, secretary of the Scottdale Y. M. C. A. and former scout executive of Texas; W. P. Schenck, president of the Local Council; O. G. Osterwie, of the troop committee, and B. B. Smith, Scout Master. Hoyer gave a history of the troop. Scout Hoyer and Senior Patrol Leader Melvin Johnson are the only two charter members of the troop now with that organization.

After the banquet was ended the scouts played an April 1 joke on their guests by passing around some "chocolate" candy with contents of various ingredients such as wood, potatoes, onion and soap. The guests enjoyed the joke and declared the "after dinner mints" were fine.

Special to The Courier.
SCOTSDALE, April 2.—On Monday the first bills came out to the water consumers of Scottsdale for their meter rent. This made the inquiries go the round concerning what action the Public Service Commission is going to take. In answer to this it was stated yesterday by one of the persons concerned that the persons assigned to the work were doing their level best to get together on the matter and this means going over books since the beginning of the Citizens Water company which was in 1889.

On Friday and Saturday another conference was held by J. N. Chester, representing the complainants, the borough of Scottsdale, the borough of Evergreen and A. P. Byrne as an individual; J. W. Ledoux, representing the water company, and P. Herbert Snow, representing the Public Service Commission. At this time the historical cost of the Greenlick reservoir, the used and useful cost, and the reproduction cost, less accrued depreciation of this same property, were gone over. This shows that the men who have the task in hand are steadily at work, and that before long something definite will be known. This is only one of several conferences held during March.

Nuxated Iron Helps to Spread Health and Strength to 3,000,000 People Annually. Get Your Share!

When you think of the successful men and women you know—people who are doing things worth while—you will find that they possess force, vim and energy—the kind that simply brim over when the blood is filled with iron.

Iron is red blood food—it helps put strength and energy into the veins of men and roses into the cheeks of women.

A prominent New York Surgeon and former Adjunct Professor of the New York Post Graduate Medical School and Hospital, Dr. Kenneth K. MacAlpine, says: "If people would only realize that iron is just as indispensable to the blood as is the air to the lungs and be just as particular about keeping up a sufficient supply at all times there would, in my opinion, be far less disease resulting from anaemic, weakened conditions. In my opinion, Nuxated Iron is the most valuable tonic, strength and blood builder any physician can prescribe."

Manufacturers' Note: Nuxated Iron, which has been prescribed and recommended by physicians and which is used by over three million people annually is not a secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated and does not irritate the teeth, make them black nor upset the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser of Nuxated Iron.

Chamber of Commerce and Business Men Take Hold of Arrangements for Home-coming.

SOMERSET, April 2.—Plans are already under way for a welcome to Captain W. C. Truxal and the members of Company C returning with him at Somerset upon their arrival in the county which sent them forth to fight in the defense of liberty on the fields of France. Included in the reception will be the members of Company C already returned as casualties, or detached and mustered out.

The home-coming will be staged at the county seat and plans have already been discussed by prominent business men, the Chamber of Commerce and fraternal organizations, though as yet they have not taken definite form. It is thought fitting that the home-coming welcome should be held at the place from which 152 members of Company C started on their great adventure.

Meyersdale, the home of the com-murder of the company and a large number of the heroic members, will also likely have a reception as it has been suggested by leading citizens of this enterprising community that the matter be taken up at the next meeting of the Booster club.

The Fourth of July has been suggested as a good time for the Somerset reception or perhaps July 15, the anniversary of the battle in which they made their first heroic stand and so many members of the company gave their lives or were wounded or captured. A great oration is awaiting members of Company C in this patriotic center of the Keystone State.

WOMAN SAVED MUCH SUFFERING

Bytaking Friend's Adviceand
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

West Plains, Mo.—"I was all run down in health, had indigestion and terrible cramps every month so I was unable to do anything. I had tried every doctor in West Plains, also every remedy I could think of, without relief. One day when I was suffering greatly a friend was at my house and said, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?' So I did, and through it I found relief from my suffering and I really believe it saved my life. It does not seem as though I can say enough in praise of this wonderful medicine for the health it has brought me."

—Miss CORA LEE HALL, West Plains, Mo.

Perhaps it may seem an extravagant statement to say that this great remedy saved a life; but women like Mrs. Hall, to whom it has brought health, appreciate the danger and suffering they have escaped too well to doubt it! All who suffer should try it. Why risk life and health without it?

For special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

TO THE BRAVE AMERICAN WOMEN.

Your Labor Counts—every ounce of work you do helps. This war was fought as truly in the household and in the workshop as it was in the trenches.

It is the women of America—the mothers, wives, sisters and sweethearts of those at the front—who made real war sacrifices. It is their overtaxed, undying determination, their God-given patriotism, which carried the spirit of success to every man in our army and navy.

Some of our American women are borne down physically and mentally by the work-stresses of their sex. They suffer from backache, dragging sensations, very nervous and pain in top of head. If they ask their neighbors they will be told to take a Favorite Prescription of Doctor Pierce's, a woman's tonic and nerve tonic, which has been so well and favorably known for the past half century. Now put-up in Tablet form as well as Liquid.

Weak women should try it now. Don't wait! Begin today. This woman's tonic and nerve will bring vim, vigor and vitality. Send to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., 20 cents for trial package of tablets.

Munson of Conneltsville, solemnized today at noon in the home of the bride in Highland avenue, Uniontown. The ring service was used and was witnessed by only the immediate relatives of the two families, the wedding being very quiet. Following a pretty appointed wedding luncheon served immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Munson left for a western trip. The bridegroom was graduated from the University of Michigan, a member of the class of 1918, and is a member of the Fayette County Bar association, practicing in Conneltsville. He is a member of every Masonic body and a past master of King Solomon lodge, 346, F. & A. M., of Conneltsville, and recently secured his honorable discharge from military service after a year's active service with the legal branch of the Ordnance Department. CAMP TAYLOR HAS COST GOVERNMENT OVER $9,000,000

Expenditures for Construction of Army Cantonment Total $7,000,000 in Round Numbers.

By Associated Press.
LOUISVILLE, KY., April 2.—Camp Zachary Taylor, the military city near here, up to the present time has cost the government $9,189,599.05, according to a report by Captain Harlan Yonke, intelligence officer at the cantonment. The cost of constructing the cantonment approximated $7,000,000 and more than $2,000,000 has been expended in extra buildings, hospital wards, general reconstruction work and upkeep, the report said.

Since the signing of the armistice, Camp Taylor has aided in caring for wounded soldiers and has also been a demobilization center for men living in middle western states. The compilation shows that of the 47,796 soldiers who have passed through the base hospitals only 1,297 have died, which is regarded by army officers as a remarkable record.

VERDIS CAUSE TROUBLE

One Escapes from Uniontown Hospital, Other Fires Jail.

After his brother, Frank Verdi, in the Uniontown hospital suffering from bullet wounds received in his attempt to escape from the county authorities after a desperate gun battle in the heart of Fairchance several weeks ago, made good his escape from the vigilance of guards which had been placed over him in the hospital yesterday, Rocco Verdi, also held in connection with the same case, caused no end of commotion at the Fayette county court house and jail by setting fire to the building in the cell where he had been kept apart from the other inmates.

The men are said to have been connected with the shooting at Fairchance several weeks ago when Constable Harry Hart had been shot in a gun battle with the Italians who were fleeing after the charge of having perpetrated a robbery near Searights a short time before. Since his admission to the jail the man has been kept in a room by himself and jail officials state he has been feigning insanity. Frank had not been located today, and it is believed his escape will prove fatal.

AGAIN TIME FOR ACTION.

The demand of the representatives of the Central Trades and Labor Council for better police protection should have, and no doubt will have, the support of every citizen and agency

having the best interests of the city

at heart.

Such conditions as were called to city council's attention at its meeting

Monday night are verging on the intolerable. That they have been permitted to exist should stir the people of the city to such determined action

as will compel something to be done,

and done quickly and effectively.

It takes the memory of the oldest residents to recall a period when so many complaints have been made of the existence of so many or so openly conducted establishments of a certain questionable character or the prevalence of so many opportunities for corruption the morals or lead young men astray.

The responsibility for these conditions rests upon the Department of Public Affairs. The mayor, as superintendent of this department, is charged under the law with the execution of the laws and ordinances designed to preserve order, clean up disorderly houses, rid the city of disreputable characters, suppress gambling and generally to enforce all the provisions of the penal code. This is not being done, otherwise there would not be occasion for order-loving citizens to go before council and make public complaint and point out specific instances of violations of the law.

While there has been a marked improvement with respect to hold-ups,

robberies and like offenses, there remain conditions of the kind referred to by the Trades and Labor Council committee which, in some respects,

are growing worse instead of better.

"It is up to the mayor to remedy the situation and to remove, and keep removed, the causes for complaint of this character just as it was up to him to act in checking the hold-up outrages.

"HELP FROM ANOTHER SOURCE."

Inasmuch as the situation which has developed from the diversion of coke

traffic from the Baltimore and Ohio railroad has resulted in the laying off of a large number of trainmen, there is a possibility that an agency of the government other than the Railroad

Administration could be of assistance in bringing about a cancellation of the order now in force.

The United States Employment Bureau is charged with the duty of securing employment for idle men; to arrange a better distribution of men in search of employment and generally to which deals with the problem involvement in his case, ought to be a timely one.

ALONE WITH CONSCIENCE.

Have you ever sat alone with your conscience, now that the war is over, and listened to its accusing voice? To the charge that you failed to do your part in the biggest crisis that ever faced your country? asks the Liberty

Loan Committee.

"Have you ever felt its pricks when you passed a khaki-clad Yank home

from the front, minus an arm, a leg or an eye? Limping along with the support of a cane or a crutch? Putting out a stiff right arm to shake your hand? Have you looked back over the last eighteen months and felt unmistakably down deep in your heart that you failed miserably?

Many of us can do that if we will but give conscience a chance. But it's never too late to mend. And in this coming Victory Liberty Loan we can put ourselves square with our conscience if we will.

Uncle Sam needs our money right

now just as much as he did a year ago.

He wants to finish the job that is all but done. Wants to protect his honor in peace as he protected it in war.

Wants to pay his debts; debts he contracted in order that the war might be won. Wants to wipe clean the slate and begin all over again under brighter, better, more promising conditions

than America has known in half a century. And if you have any qualms of conscience over your dereliction of duty in the past, here is a fine little chance to put them to rest.

A chance to redeem yourself, to restore the self respect that will permit

you to look any wounded Yank in the eye and claim comradeship. A chance to enable Uncle Sam to look the world squarely in the face. A chance to vic-inate American honor, loyalty, patriotism. A chance you cannot afford to neglect.

So get ready to subscribe to the Victory Liberty Loan. Sufficiently to quiet conscience forever.

As a legislative body the city council can put through more business when it tries, than its rival at Harrisburg.

The weatherman must have mixed

the months this spring.

The large reductions in the number of employed trainmen on the Baltimore

& Ohio railroad is a matter that should urge every citizen to do what they can to bring about a restoration of coke traffic to this road. The road can do so to show your interest

by attending the mass meeting in city hall tomorrow evening.

Policing Connellsville and seeing that the job is done is a different proposition from what it was some years ago but it must not be indiferently done.

The approach of spring reminds the residents in the vicinity of the parkland that the worst is yet to come.

The city council has started the spring construction activity. It is now up to the house builders to follow suit.

A Telephone Defect Also.

New York Sun.

For years the American Telephone

& Telegraph company, ably managed,

wisely financed and intelligently managed, has been the backbone of the country's telephone system, performing a work of prime national importance. It was not an infrequent thing that it became habitual for telephone rates to be lowered. Yet all the while the service constantly improved,

and the company was a steady and profitable earner for its stockholders.

The government took over the operation of the telephone system, and exactly as had happened in the case of the railroads, the Old Nick got into the works. Most of the earnings were ordered up, but there was nothing to show for it. Important tolls were increased, but the service grew worse. In the first five months of government operation there was a deficit of close to $4,000,000 for a company hitherto accustomed to nothing but fat surpluses.

And now a general increase of rates amounting to 12 per cent will be necessary to wipe out the deficit and provide a thin surplus—surplus, perhaps;

then again, perhaps not. For as government operation can wipe out any surplus that exists in anything, government operation, when there is no

surplus, is an insurmountable barrier against the creation of one. A surplus, indeed, however high the charges to the public are jacked up, will be absorbed to government operation as soon as service.

The touch of the government in business is the touch of death.

NON-PARTISAN REPEALER

Lines to Its Death in the House Committee at Harrisburg.

HARRISBURG, April 1.—The measures to repeal the non-partisan election laws are virtually killed for this session. The Dawson bill relating to elections in second-class cities was sent back to the committee last night
where it will very probably remain.
The hearing on the Wilson bill, repealing non-partisan election laws, as related to third-class cities, scheduled for today, was called off.

This action, in connection with Governor Sprout's attitude on the measures, is taken to mean that further efforts to repeal the non-partisan laws will not be made by the present Legislature.

Representative McCollum of Lancaster introduced a bill last night authorizing the payment of $50 to each soldier and sailor of Pennsylvania who was inducted into the service from this state during the war.

Senator Nason introduced a bill repealing cities of the third-class to establish a pension fund for city employees.

The supporters of the Sunday movie
bill, despite its throttling in committee, will make an attempt to have the measure placed on the calendar. This may be permitted, but the bill will certainly be defeated on the floor.

How Much is 1¢

Suppose that for one cent you could insure the quality of your cake, biscuits,
etc., wouldn't that be real economy?

Well, one cent is about the difference in the cost of a whole cake or a pan of biscuits made with Royal Baking Powder
as compared with cheaper baking powders made from alum or phosphate—a trifle, indeed, to insure the quality and wholesomeness of your baking.

LITERATURE MADE TO ORDER ONE OF INTERPRISES OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Special to The Courier.

PITTSBURG, April 2.—A national literature made to order is a unique project which has been undertaken by the board of foreign missions of the Methodist Episcopal church.

There are still nations that do not know the magic of printing and millions of people who have neither books nor newspapers. Liberia was such a nation until missionaries, believing that the power of gospel preachments is greatly multiplied if backed up by Christian literature in the language of the people preached to, set out to find a man who could create a Liberian literature. After a search over a period of three years such a man has been found and will soon be at work supplying Christian-ity's printed propaganda to the natives.

Publishing Christianity in a score of different languages and dialects is an important part of missionary work as conducted by the board of foreign missions. Sixteen publishing houses in 11 countries is the present equipment of this evangelical enterprise.

To celebrate the 100th anniversary of Methodism's entrance into the mission field the Methodist Episcopal church is raising a fund of $105,000, 60¢ for the extension of its missionary work while the Methodist Episcopal Church South is raising $55,000,000.

Senator Nason introduced a bill re-
pealing cities of the third-class to establish a pension fund for city employees.

WOLVES of the SEA

BY RANDALL PARRISH

"But why?" I insisted, shocked at the man's violence. "Is it because I interfered between you and Dorothy Fairfax?"

"That chit! Bah, what do I care for her but as a plaything. No, my hate runs deeper than that. How came you here—in the boat stolen from the Samar?"

"No, Captain Sanchez. The day after we left the ship we boarded a schooner bound adrift, the crew stricken with cholera, with not a man left alive on deck, or below. She lies yonder now, the Santa Maria—a slave."

"Merciful God!" and his eyes fairly glared into mine as he suddenly forced his body upward to the bunk. "The

"Don't You, Take Your Gold and Go!"

Santa Maria drifted the wrecked dead from the sea, and the captain—Dorothy Fairfax—what of him?"

"It lay upon a ditch in the cabin—dead as a dog."

He tried to look out, but his fingers clung to his throat. When he finally gained his voice once more it was not a word.

"Call me," he begged, "there was no woman with him?"

"There was no woman," I said gravely. "On deck, in the cabin."

"What meant you by saying that? There was one on board! Don't lie to me! In an hour a man died—but first, tell me the truth. Does the woman live?"

"No, she died before. We found her body in a chest, preserved by some devilish Indian art, richly dressed and decked with jewels."

"English?"

"I judged her so, but with dark hair and eyes. You knew her?"

"In the name of all the devils, yes. And I know her end. He killed her—Paradise killed her—because she was false to him as she had been to me. Hell! but it is strange you should be the one to find her—to bring me this tale, Geoffrey Carlyle."

"Why? What is it to me?"

"You go back to England and tell the duke of Buccleugh how his precious sister died."

"His sister! Good God, you cannot mean that woman was Lady Sara Carlyle?"

"Who should know better than I?" sneeringly. "Once I was called in England Sir John Collinswood."

He sank back exhausted, struggling for breath, but with eyes glowing hatred. I knew it all now, the dimly remembered story coming vividly back to memory. Here then was the ending of the one black stain on the family honor of our race. On this strange coast, three thousand miles from its beginning, the final curtain was being rung down, the drama finished. The story had come to me in whispers from others, never even spoken about by those of our race—a wild, headstrong girl, a secret marriage, a duel in the park, her brother desperately wounded, and then the disappearance of the pair. Ten days later it was known that Sir John Collinswood had defaulted in a large sum—but from that hour England knew him no more. As though the sea had swallowed them both, man and woman disappeared, leaving no trace behind.

The face I gazed dumbly into was drawn and white with pain, yet the thin lips grinned back at me in savage derision.

"You remember, I see," he snarled. "Then out of here, Geoffrey Carlyle. Leave me to die in peace. The gold is there; take it, and my curse upon it. Hurry now—do you hear the bark grate on the rocks; it's near the end."

CHAPTER XXXIII.

Before the Governor.

The sound startled me; I imagined I heard the keel slipping, yet before we had reached the door opening on deck the slight movement ceased. My hand gripped the frightened Haines.

"Tell them in the boat to do as I said; then come back here."

"My God, sir, she's a gold mine."

"Not for some minutes yet. There are thousands of pounds in that chest; you've staked life for less many a time. Haines, my man!"

The boat lay in close, bobbing up and down dangerously, yet held firmly beneath the opened port. The box was heavy enough to tax the strength of two men to handle it, but of a size and shape permitting its passage. Sanchez had raised himself again, and clung there to the edge of the bunk watching us.

"Now let down easy, lads," I called. "No, place it amidships; get it even, or you go over. Fix it to ride steady, and stand by—we'll pass a wounded man out to you!"

I stepped across to Sanchez. He saw me coming, and drew back, his ghastly face like a mask.

"No you don't, Carlyle," he snarled, angrily. "Keep your hands off me. So you want me to die with my neck in a noose, do you? I was born a gentleman, and by God I'll die like one—and go down with my ship. Get out of here now! You won't? You will, or else die here with me! I'll give you a minute to make your choice."

He left no doubt as to his meaning. From beneath the blanket, the black muzzle of a pistol looked straight into my eyes. The hand holding it was firm, the face fronting me savagely scornful.

"I'd like to kill you, Carlyle," he hissed hatefully. "By God, I don't know why I shouldn't. Every time I look at you I see her face. If you take a step nearer I'll pull the trigger—go!"

It was a hard pull back to the Santa Maria. Dorothy greeted me first, and we stood close together at the rail as the men hoisted the chest on deck. She said nothing, asked nothing, but her hands clung to my arm, and when ever I turned toward her one eye met.

"There was a sudden cry forward, and a voice shouted:

"There she goes, lukes! That's the last of the Samar!"

I turned swiftly, my hand grasping her fingers as they clung to the rail. The battered bulk slid downward, the deck breaking amidships as the stern splashed into the depths; then that also toppled over, and nothing above water except the white foam of a broken bowsprit, and a pile of wreckage tossed about on the crest of the waves. I watched breathlessly, unable to utter a sound; I could only think of that stricken man in the cabin, those wild eyes which had threatened me. He was gone—gone!

I yet held Dorothy's hand tightly clasped in my own, and the depths of her upturned eyes questioned me.

"We will go off, dear, and I will tell you the whole story," I said solemnly. "For now we are homeward bound."

I wrote these few closing lines a year later in the cabin of the Green Spar, a three-master, out to the harbor with a cargo of tobacco, bound for London, and a market. Dorothy is on deck, eagerly watching for the first glimpse of the chalk cliffs of old England. I must join her presently, get finger below to add these final sentences.

There is, after all, little which needs to be said. The voyage of the Samar, from north to south, was uneventful, save after that first night of storm, the weather mild, pleasant, and the sea fairly smooth. I had some trouble with the men, but nothing serious, as Watkins and Haines held as I did, and the pledge of Dorothy's influence brought courage. I refused to open the chest, believing our safety, and chance of pardon, would depend largely on our handling this over in good faith to the authorities. Watkins and I guarded it night and day until the schooner rounded the cape and came into the Chesapeake. No attempt was made to find quarters below, the entire crew sleeping on deck. Dorothy comforted on the flag locker.

It was scarcely sunrise, on the fifth day, when we dropped anchor against the current of the James, our sails furled, and the red English colors flying from the peak. Two hours later the entire company were in the presence of the governor, where I told my story, gravely listened to, supplemented by the earnest plea of the young woman. I shall never forget that scene, or how breathlessly we awaited the decision of the great man, who so closely watched our faces. They were surely a strange, rough group as they stood thus, hats in hand, waiting to learn their fate, shaggy-haired, unshaven, largely scum of the sea, never before in such presence, shuffling uneasily before his glance, fawning to the full the peril of their position. Their eyes turned to me questioningly.

Opposite us, behind a long table, sat the governor, dignified, austere, his hair powdered and face smoothly shaven; while on either side of him were those of his council, many of the faces stern and unforgiving. But for their gracious reception of Dorothy and their careful attention to her words I should have lost heart. They questioned me eagerly, although the governor spoke but seldom, and then in a kindly tone of sympathy and understanding. One by one the men were called forward, each in turn compelled to tell briefly the story of his life; and when all was done the eyes of the governor sought those of the council.

"You have all alike heard the tale, gentlemen," he said. "Nothing like it hath ever before been brought before this colony. Would you leave decision to me?"

There was a murmur of assent, as though they were thus gladly relieved of responsibility in so serious a matter. The governor smiled, his kindly eyes surveying us once more; then, with extended hand he bade Dorothy be seated.

"The story is seemingly an honest one," he said slowly, "and these men have done a great service to the colony. They deserve reward rather than punishment. The fair lady who pleads for them is known to us all, and to even question her word is impossible. Unfortunately I have not the power of pardon in cases of piracy, nor authority to free bond slaves, without the approval of the home government; yet will exercise in this case whatever power I possess. For want services rendered to the colony, and unselfish devotion to Mistress Dorothy Fairfax, I release Geoffrey Carlyle from servitude pending advice from England. I also grant a role to these men, on condition they remain within our jurisdiction until this judgment can be confirmed and full pardons issued. Is this judgment satisfactory, gentlemen?"

The members of the council bowed gravely, without speaking.

"The chest of treasure recovered from the sunken pirate ship," he went on soberly, "will remain unopened until final decision is made. As I understand, Master Carlyle, no one among you has yet seen its contents, or estimated its value?"

"No, your excellency. Beyond doubt it contains the gold stolen from Roger Fairfax; and possibly the result of other robberies at sea."

"The law of England is that a certain percentage of such recovered treasure belongs to the crown, the remainder, its true extent understood, to be fairly divided among those recovering it."

"Yet," spoke up Dorothy quickly, "it must surely be possible to waive all claim in such cases?"

"Certainly, as private property it can be disposed of in any way desired. Was that your thought?"

"A Fairfax always pays his debt," he said proudly. "And this is mine."

There was a moment's silence as though each one present hesitated to speak. She had risen, and yet stood, but with eyes lowered to the floor. Then they were lifted and met mine in all frank honesty.

"There is another debt I owe," she said clearly, "and would pay, your excellency."

"What is that, fair mistress?"

She crossed to me, her hand upon my arm.

"To become the wife of Geoffrey Carlyle."

THIS DAY

FORCED TO WAIT FOR NEWS
People Get Information Slowly Before the Invention of the Telegraph and the "Wireless."

Today when the latest news of the day is flashed all over the world by wire and wireless, we are apt to forget the difficulties of gathering news before telegraphs were in general operation. The earliest fast news carrier service of record was reported by Marco Polo, who relates that Genghis Khan, ruler of Chinese Tartary, in the thirteenth century, sent relays of couriers across the country, covering about 300 miles each day.

David Hale, manager of the New York Journal of Commerce from 1837 until some time in the 30's, found his paper shut out of a news-gathering combination, so he organized an independent service. He first created a private news boat service, which enabled him to scoop all his competitors in bringing the first news of the French revolution to this country. During the exciting period of Jackson's administration he established a news-gathering press service from Philadelphia to New York, which resulted in the institution of the celebrated "Hallefax express."

Richard Raughton, founder of the Boston Atlas, used relays of horses to gather election news in Massachusetts, and he was able to print the returns of the election of 1830 at 9 o'clock on the morning after election.

FRANK SCHULTE NOW BACK IN HOME TOWN

For Fifteen Years He Played All Over United States.

Was Stated to Play Utility Role for Washington This Year, but Griffith Let Him Go to Manage Binghamton Team.

Fifteen years ago Frank Schulte left his home town, Binghamton, N. Y., to make his debut in big league baseball. The only folk who were sure that he would shine in the big show were his home-town friends and relatives and Frank Schulte.

All fandom knows how Schulte delivered—how he burned up the National league season after season with the Cubs. The point of this tale is that Frank is going back home. He was slated to play a utility role with Washington this year when the owners of the Binghamton International league club asked him to manage their team. The deal looked good to Schulte and Griffith was fair enough to get Schulte's release so he could accept.

So, after fifteen years of playing all over the United States—figuring in training trip joints 'n' everything—he's going back home. It'll be some welcome. Frank gets opening day, too. The Binghamton fans have made him their idol through all those fifteen years and they're hungry to see him play.

And they will not see a has-been. Schulte was not through as a big leaguer. Why, about half the players in both big leagues would like the batting ability he showed even last year—when many critics called him done.

He broke into the lineup in 33 games for the Nationals last season and slugged out 77 hits in 267 times up for a .288 average. Twenty-three players who played in few or many games ranked higher than Schulte. Fourteen of his clubs were doubles and three put him on third. Further indication that his eyes were still keen is seen in the fact that he worked the pitchers for 47 passes.

How about his fielding? He played 75 games in the outfield and made just five bores—being credited with a fielding average of .962.

PITTSBURGH TO LOSE STARS
Football Squad Will Be Badly Riddled by Graduations—Eight to Receive Sheepskins.

Pittsburgh's football squad will be badly riddled by graduations next June when eight of the eleven varsity performers receive their sheepskins. Furthermore, reserve material is scarce, especially for the line. While Pitt adherents have great faith in the ability of Coach "Pop" Warner, they are preparing themselves for some defeats next fall, as they cannot figure that the Cornell man can get through this string of games with another clean white. The one-year-residence rule may back their effort to the fall.

Chicago sportsmen are trying to revive horse racing.

Frank Givney can't see this theatrical turn at all, at all. Some athletes might pattern after the backstop.

SAIER WILL PLAY SEMIPRO

Former Premier First Baseman of Chicago Cubs, Discharged From Army, Gets Offers.

Victor Saior, one time premier first baseman with the Chicago Cubs, may play semiprofessional baseball in Jackson in 1919. Saior, who sustained a broken leg in 1917, and was released by the Cubs is visiting relatives in Jackson.

The Pittsburgh club has obtained Saior, under the ruling that when one club releases any player any club may obtain him.

Saior has under consideration offers from the semiprofessional club in Lansing and several from the major leagues. He was discharged from the army January 1.

MAY SEND RACERS TO FRANCE

Sunbriar and Exterminator, Owned by Willis Sharpe Kilmer Likely to Compete for Prizes.

Another invasion of France is likely—a peaceful invasion. If the race tracks of France reopen next season Willis Sharpe Kilmer of Binghamton will send his crack racehorses, Sunbriar and Exterminator, to compete for the rich prizes of the turf. A two-year-old colt, a full brother of Sunbriar, now at Newmarket, England, is one of the noted Alex Taylor, will join them.

The loss of Sunbriar and Exterminator from the Jockey club circuit will cause a gap in the ranks of the high-class thoroughbreds in this country. There are few enough topnotch horses now as it is. The Canadian tracks will open this summer, and with stakes of greater value than those offered by the tracks of New York, the Empire state will be hard put to it to obtain horses of high caliber to fill the races. So the determination of Mr. Kilmer to ship these horses abroad means more to the American turf than their appearance on the surface.

BASEBALL WRITERS PEEVED

Brooklyn Scribes Inclined to Opinion That Dodgers Had String on Catcher Earl Smith.

Brooklyn baseball writers are inclined to be a bit peeved over the Giants getting Catcher Earl Smith from Rochester. It seems the opinion was that Brooklyn had a string to him, but in the excitement of closing up baseball operations early last fall the claim was not perfected. And Brooklyn could use a catcher next season.

SOLDIER STUNS WILDCAT WITH RIFLE WHEN ANIMAL LEAPS AT HIM FROM TREE

Tackling the Hun in the Argonne forest is mere sport to taking the American wildcat on his native tree. H. L. Woods of Rockwood, said last night at the Seventh Avenue hotel, Pittsburgh, as he opened his grip to show the reporter what was contained therein, according to a story in the Pittsburgh Gazette Times. He carried a large suitcase and its sides bulged with the largest specimen of mountain cat ever killed in Somerset county, the hunter said. With Mr. Woods, who recently returned from service overseas, was Dr. H. B. Wiley of Rockwood. They went to Pittsburgh to get the specimen mounted by a taxidermist.

It was a dangerous battle, according to the hunter, because the party, consisting of Mr. Woods and A. B. Philippe, also of Rockwood, was not prepared for the combat.

"We started out on a fox chase, with our dogs baying through the forest," Mr. Woods said. "We wondered why our dogs forgot the fox hunt at a point in a very wild spot under tall pines. They clustered around one particular tree.

"We claim to be experienced hunters and were aware that it was something other than a fox the dogs had up that tree. We drove our mounts to a safe distance from the dogs, dismounted and approached with our light guns ready.

"Philippe saw the gleaming eyes of the cat first. I saw the beast as it got ready to leap at our approach, being quite satisfied that the dogs could not harm it. As the cat crouched Philippe got it with a shot and crippled its hind legs.

"As I was ready to shoot the cat, not being entirely disabled, directed its leap at me. I caught him on the jump by clubbing the gun like a baton at the plate getting the ball good and fair. I caught him under the jaw and it knocked him silly. Then I put a ball into him.

The specimen will be taken to Rockwood and placed on exhibition, as it is a fine example of wild beast beauty.

A PLOT TO SEIZE U. S. ARSENAL PITTSBURG FAILS

Confederate of Trotsky Planned Destruction of the Metropolis.

INDUSTRIES TO BE TARGET

Reign of Terror of Reds Included Raid on the City by Armed Mob of 3,000 Anarchists: Work of Destruction to Extend to Other Cities of Country.

PITTSBURGH, April 2.—A conspiracy to bring about a revolution here after seizing the government arsenal at Fort Lehigh and Butler streets, with its firearms and munitions, to destroy manufacturing plants and to lay the city in ruins was disclosed yesterday by the Department of Justice with the arrest of William Wyless, aged 38, of Twenty street, Wilkensburg, self-confessed Russian anarchist, Bolshevik leader and an agent of Trotsky in this district. The plot was to be carried out this week.

After months of constant surveillance and after many futile efforts to trap him, Wyless finally gave his confidence to a government agent who succeeded in joining the Soviet agent in the Union of Russian Workingmen here and it was through this medium that he was apprehended yesterday at his home by Special Agent Edgar B. Speer of the Department of Justice and Deputy Marshal Ira McCloskey, Wyless, after being arraigned before United States Commissioner Roger Knox, was committed to jail to await a hearing today before the commissioner. He is charged with violating Section 3 of the United States Criminal Code in promoting a seditious conspiracy to overthrow the government of the United States.

Coming so close upon the heels of the sensational arrests of 10 alleged Russian anarchists Monday by state police and local authorities, Wyless' apprehension yesterday created a stir in government circles. The Department of Justice agents added considerable interest to the situation when they made known the fact that the set of plans of the lightning ignition system of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company, found in the room of Alex. Ananoff, Russian Soviet secretary and I. W. W. recruiter Monday, contained the drawing of a bomb with coils leading to vital parts of the plant. A bomb plot was suspected when the plans were found, and yesterday's discovery confirmed the suspicions of the government agents.

After seizing Pittsburgh and destroying the industries and the city it was the wild plan of the "Reds" to march on to other cities and capture them by storm.
